Digital Banking

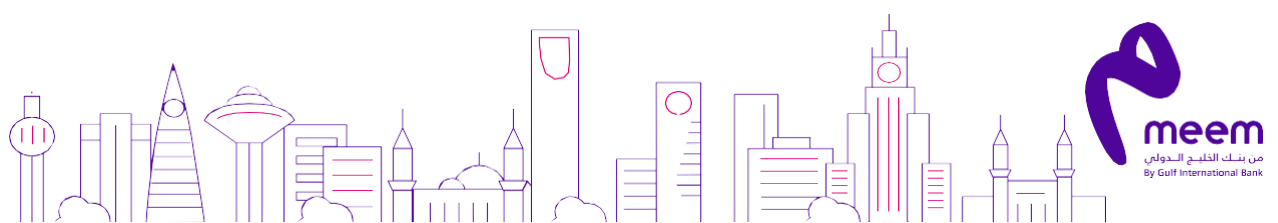

meem Digital Banking by Gulf International Bank, is the first digital Shariah Compliant bank in the world which launched in the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia in 2014 and began operations in the Kingdom of Bahrain in March 2018.

meem is made to be different. It is built to cater to modern lifestyles, offering digital financial products and services so you can safely bank on-the-go while living the moments that matter. At meem, we follow a customer-centric approach, providing customers with a quick, dynamic, and unique customer experience that is personalised and appealing.

Our aim is to collaborate with local partners to promote Fintech in the region in addition to identify opportunities to cross-collaborate with desired service providers that will enhance our innovative digital banking proposition.

Considering both the Kingdom's of Saudi Arabia and Bahrain's Vision 2030, meem takes pride in and is well positioned to offer citizens of both Kingdoms a fully digitized personal and cashless banking experience that is simple and convenient and offers freedom of choice and value for money.

meem Digital Banking by Gulf International Bank, is owned by the six Governments of the Gulf Cooperation Council, the Bank's primary shareholder is the Public Investment Fund of Saudi Arabia, which holds a majority stake of 97.2%. In Saudi Arabia, GIB – Saudi Arabia is 50% owned by GIB Group and 50% by the Public Investment Fund of Saudi Arabia and was the first international bank to receive a local license, making it a 100% Saudi bank
